

Preferences allow you to choose how much information you share

If you've completed your profile on the WSAE community site, you know that there is a wealth of information contained in your profile. You can manage how much information you reveal –and to whom –by changing your “preferences.”

Here's how:

1. Log in to the WSAE Connected Community.
2. Choose My Profile on the top menu bar.
3. Choose My Preferences from the left menu bar.
4. Click the radio buttons to share information with your contacts in the Connected Community, all WSAE members, the public, or nobody.
5. Click Save at the bottom of the screen.

Of course, the more information you share, the more opportunities you create for connecting to others. Just know that you can modify your preferences to share as much or as little information as you like.
