

Cultivate your own community on the WSAE Connected Community

Two grassroots, member-created communities have sprung up within the WSAE Connected Community, including David Feldner's WSAE innovation task force and Ross Kinzler's government affairs group.

If you have a special interest you want to discuss with other members, you are encouraged to propagate your own community. Here's how:

- Log into the WSAE Connected Community.
- Go to My Profile > My Communities.
- Click on the green plus sign on the right side of the screen.
- Name your group.
- Write a brief description.
- Check the boxes for e-group and library.
- Click "Save and invite members" at the bottom of the screen.
- Invite other WSAE members to join your group and watch the community grow!
